Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Widow of the City of Nain: And Other Poems The Widow of Nain A Poem And why this look of wild affright This burning tear, and pallid brow; Does some dark vision of the night With stern remembrance haunt thee now? Why thus should fancied fear appal? Thou seest tis but illusion all. Soft sleep has soothed me - and my breast Is free from pain, except for thee; Calm and unbroken was my rest, And why should thine less tranquil be? Cease then, my mother - weep no more, - Thy dream of agony is o'er: About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
